Summary

As a recent graduate with a Master degree in Computer Science, I am enthusiastic about launching my career as a Full Stack Developer. Possessing a strong foundation in both front-end and back-end development gained through academic projects and self-learning initiatives, I am adept at utilizing technologies such as HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and various frameworks like React and Node.js. Eager to contribute my passion for coding and problem-solving skills to a dynamic team environment, I am committed to continuously learning and adapting to emerging technologies to deliver innovative solutions.
